Key Man Played a Losing Game

LAUDER TRIED FOR TEN YEARS TO GET RID OF TROUBLE—TANLAC PROVES MERIT.

"I could tell you in a few words what I think of Tanlac, but I can never get through praising it for what it has done for me," said J. O. Lauder, 1427 Dean Ave., Des Moines, Iowa, a few days ago.

Mr. Lauder has been a telegraph operator for more than twenty years and is now night operator for the C. R. I. & P. railroad, Rock Island Station, Des Moines.

"I have been taking medicines for ten years," added Mr. Lauder, "trying to get rid of a case of stomach trouble. Years ago I realized I was playing a losing game, for I kept getting worse but did not know what to do to help myself. Until Tanlac fixed my stomach up here recently I hadn't enjoyed a good meal in years. I had become so nervous and irritable that I had to guard myself to keep the ordinary things of life from getting me all upset and unstrung. I managed to keep at work most of the time, but was very much worried, as I felt that I was right on the verge of a nervous breakdown. My sleep did not rest me and work had become a burden to me.

"A few months ago my wife and I went on a visit down in Missouri and found her sister so improved that we hardly knew her on first sight. She told us Tanlac did it, so on our return I got a bottle and, after taking only two doses I began to feel better. I am now feeling like a man made new. My appetite is so ravenous that meal-time comes too slow, and I can eat just anything and everything and not have any trouble from it. My nerves were never better; I sleep like a baby and get up thoroughly rested and ready for work. I feel more grateful than I can find words to express for what Tanlac has done for me, and I am glad of the opportunity to make a statement for what it may be worth to others who are trying to find relief."

Tanlac is sold in Dakota City by Neiswanger Pharmacy, in South Sioux City by McBeath's Pharmacy, in Homer by Brassfield & Jensen.—Advertisement.

DOINGS IN THE DISTRICT COURT

An adjourned session of district court was convened here Monday by Judge Guy T. Graves, when the partition case of the John C. Gribble estate was taken up for hearing. The case involved the title to 160 acres of land on the sandbar north of Brushy Bend, which had been deeded to B. B. Gribble, one of the heirs to the estate. The case was decided in favor of the plaintiffs and against T. W. Gribble, who claimed title to the land in controversy. The case of Chas. Selzer against Mrs. Jas. Flynn, of South Sioux City, was taken up for trial Wednesday and was still in progress when the Herald went to press. The case is a foreclosure of a mortgage against the Jas. Flynn estate.

Possible to Can Without Sugar

It is not necessary to buy sugar at the present price in order to do canning, says the Nebraska College of Agriculture. Most fruits and vegetables can be successfully preserved without sugar. They can be put up now and sweetened after the canning season, as they are put on the table. With the cold-pack method, follow the same directions as when sugar is used, except boil a little longer, as sugar acts as a preservative. Some people are using corn sirup for about half the sweetening, especially in marmalades and preserves, and in some jellies. Its use is not advisable where fruit is to be used as a sauce. Unless sirup is more economical than sugar there is no object in using it at all.

Farmers trying New Forage Crops

Twenty-three Richardson county farmers are experimenting with soybeans. Some of them are growing them for the seed but most of them wish to try them as hog feed. Soybeans have appeared profitable in some sections of the state, either as a hay crop or for hog pasture. They are high in feeding value and yields of a ton and a half to two tons to the acre are not unusual in eastern Nebraska. When cut for hay they should be harvested when the pods are well formed and before the leaves begin to fall.
